

MOM'S FRITTATA BY DONNA KAUFFMAN

Basically, this is an unfolded omelet, so it's really easy.

Start with a pan you can use in the oven. A small cast iron pan works great.

Beat 3-6 eggs (depending on the size of your pan).

Melt a bit of butter in the bottom of the pan. Add the beaten eggs. Now add whatever you like—cheese, bacon, onions, peppers, etc.

When the eggs are set on the bottom and starting to set on the top, put the whole thing into a 400-degree oven and bake until the top is set. That's it.

In theory, this will slide right out of the pan!

But really, at my house, all Mom really wants in bed for Mother's Day is a Mimosa— ½ pineapple juice, ½ orange juice, and champagne. Fabulous way for this mother to start Mother's Day!
